These findings are in line with previous research showing that the use of a decision support system can improve the performance of decision makers in complex tasks. The results also suggest that the use of a decision support system can reduce the time taken to make a decision, which is a key factor in the success of a decision-making process. The findings have implications for the design of decision support systems, which should be able to provide decision makers with the information and tools they need to make a decision quickly and accurately.
