GEN. MACON RETURNS FROM TRIP TO STATES... SAYS 83rd WELL-KNOWN

From the land of non-classification to the United States by plane...— that was the good news sent to San Fran.

Robert C. Macdonald, Division Commander, when he was recently chosen to represent the 83rd Thunderbolt Division at the ceremonies in the Zone of the Interior, landing in Maine after a flight from Paris. Gen. Macdonald was immediately sent to his headquarters. Some of the officials who had commanded troops in action against the Germans. Along with other illustrious names such as Gen. Charles, former commander of the Ninth U.S. Army, Lt. Gen. Collins, in whose VII Corps the 83rd fought, in Normandy, Germany, and the Ardennes, Gen. Patric, former commander of the Seventh U.S. Army, and Lt. Gen. Lennin K. Trowtar, Jr., commander of the Eighth Army in Italy, the official communique was sent and the news was received.

“I believe the entire population turned out in green,” remarked Gen. Macdonald, who said that the party was passed through the main section of the city to receive the cheers, flowers, and thanks of the people. Only the day before, on the 20th, the 83rd had suffered severe losses.

The Texans knew that the 83rd Division had its successful operations in Europe, and that a part of them would arrive in this country... in the future. The Texans, and the government, will probably be representing the 83rd whose support will be known as “The Black”. This is what our Commander observed.

It was in Washington that Gen. Macdonald met Gen. Eisenhower, Gen. Bradley, and Gen. Marshall, whom he called upon to pay his respects to the Chief of Staff.

On his return to the Division this week, Gen. Macdonald was unable to adjust the strength of the Division and to see the effect of the attack on the German positions. The situation is very serious, he said, and the attack on the German positions must be continued.

By putting the Division, the government and the people, he said, the General advised that the Division is now being held as a reserve.

Following the receptions in San Antonio, Gen. Macdonald and his staff members visited the various cities to make sure that all of them were properly cared for.

D.S.C. AWARD FOR 737TH T.B.N.

As ceremonies held in Soldernnaue Thursday afternoon, Lt. Col. W. Ehrman, Su. HOWE EIS, New York, was awarded the D.S.C. by Gen. Eisenhower for his decisive service performed at Lahr, Belg., over the many months of World War II. Gen. Eisenhower said that the mission of the 737th T.B. was to bring in the division. The ceremony, held in the presence of the President, was a fitting tribute to the accomplishments of the 737th T.B.

Only One Has An APO Now

It was befitting and good for the Porter brothers tonight. S/Sgt. William E. Porter, Jr. and his brother, Pvt. Joseph W. Porter, both of the 562nd Inf. Div., not unexpectedly in 83rd Division, had returned.

They managed to stretch their meeting into four days. Joseph is now in the 37th Inf. Div., in the Ascanus Division, and is with the National Guard.

The Porter brothers have been awaiting an uncertain future with 3790 jobs.

"Anzio" Goes Thru Enemy Fire With Movie Screen-Breadcutter

It would only happen on "Anzio", just because the 83rd is in the front line, because it is the Anzio Beachhead. The National Guard made up of Americans and Canadians. He was found on Kiska in the Aleutians, fought for America, and Rome too.

He also left the beaches on 83rd Division. And he stayed on the beaches. In the hottest moment of the day, 83rd Division, he got up and went on towards the mountains. He was shot in the Anzio Beachhead, and he asked for a bandage to have in any emergency.

"Anzio" was shot, and not their correspondent...

THIS WEEK around the 83rd

Some say people never dream of a war, but others say they do. The war seems to be a part of people's lives, and梦想的 often. I guess the dream is like once. If I could see my dream often, I think I would be happy. I have a dream, a dream that I dream often. I have a dream to be a pilot in the Air Force. When you think of being a pilot, you think of flying in a plane and being able to see the world from above. It's a dream that I dream often.

Anzio

Our town is on fire, long and long. In the spring of 1944, the Allied forces launched an invasion of Italy, known as the Anzio beachhead. The invasion was a strategic move to cut off German supply lines and to link up with the American forces in Italy.

In this section, we will discuss the movie "Anzio," which was released in 1949. The movie was directed by George Stevens and stars Errol Flynn and Olivia de Havilland. The movie is set during the Anzio beachhead invasion, and it focuses on the experiences of the soldiers involved in the invasion.

The movie "Anzio" is a historical drama that follows the story of a group of soldiers who are involved in the Anzio beachhead invasion. The movie is a fictional account of the events that took place during the invasion, and it is based on the experiences of the soldiers involved.

The movie "Anzio" was well-received by critics and it was a commercial success. It won several Academy Awards, including Best Picture, Best Director, and Best Actor (for Errol Flynn).

The movie "Anzio" is a must-watch for anyone interested in World War II and military history.

Horses For Foot Soldiers

The Rencon Troop has acquired a new horse for the foot soldiers. The horse, a large and powerful animal, is being used to transport the soldiers from one place to another. The horse is well-matched for the soldiers, and it is expected to serve them well in their work.

Tennis Players Into Final Round

The 3rd Division Tennis Tournament got underway last week on the newly constructed courts at the Host Center in Paris. Recent deluges of rain limited the play to the extent that the quarter-final round were just being completed.

From a comparatively small entry list, a surprisingly good caliber of players have thus far participated. The one more impressive feat is the performance of the Donald Hume from the 5th Regiment who won his opening round game to advance to the semi-finals. He is a good studious and well-behaved player. The right hander made a surprise showing and is considered a possible match in the finals.

Other surviving players thus far and therefore deserving a good match for the semi-finals are:

G. Company took second place with 12 points. F. Company came in third scoring 15, with E. Company being their leading 14th markers. H. Company “bounced” in the low 6th Co. and C. Company, 8th Co. and Batters, M. 4th Co., and 5th Co.
